2. Photos and/or videos must be original works (entries from professional photographers are not allowed) and have been captured by the entrant.

Selection Criteria

A panel of University adjudicators will review all entries. The best submissions will capture the entrant and her/his exploration and engagement with the host culture. Other selection criteria include:

- Technical and artistic merit (clarity, focus, lighting, etc.)
- Photos exhibiting the entrant’s experience abroad (e.g. academic learning, cultural learning, international awareness, cultural sensitivity, or fun)
- An original approach to the subject matter

To Submit Photo Entries:

- Upload high-resolution, digital photos (JPEG preferred) online at <http://international.richmond.edu/semester/photo-contest/>.

To Submit Video Entries:

- Post your video to an online hosting service like YouTube or Vimeo (a maximum of two minutes)
- E-mail the video link to international@richmond.edu.
- In the body of the e-mail, please include your:
 - First and Last Name
 - UR Profile (faculty staff, domestic student, international student)
 - Abroad Location
 - Video Title
 - Video URL

Prizes

Winning entrants will receive an Amazon.com gift card, and their photographs/videos may be displayed in the International Center, included in future University publications, and/or showcased on University websites. Winners will be announced in mid-April.
